

GÖKHAN AKSU

"ABINATOR" MMA · Lightweight · OKTAGON MMA

SHORT BIO

Gökhan "Abinator" Aksu (born 28 November 1991) is a Turkish professional MMA fighter competing in the lightweight division of OKTAGON MMA, Europe's leading MMA organization. He lives in Tyrol (Austria) and trains at MAA Rosenheim (Germany). Aksu won three titles across two Austrian organizations and is feared for his punching power: all 14 of his wins came by way of finish. His victory over Denis Frimpong earned him a shot at the OKTAGON lightweight title in Berlin in June 2026. His fan club "Team Abinator" travels to events by the busload and is one of the loudest supporter groups in the league. Aksu proudly embraces his Turkish roots and connects the MMA communities in Germany, Austria and Türkiye.
